CONSULTING

Feng Shui · Energy Flow

The Consulting in line with the ancient tradition of Asian Feng Shui and energy flow alignment brings a better energetic balance and a more free, natural and harmonious flow in our living space. Through evaluation and adjustment of energies, elements, shapes and colors around us in line with the unique structure and composition of nature we experience more balance. The effect of adjustments unfolds and mirrors in daily being and living in all areas of life, relationships and well-being through positive alignment, focus, clarity and better inner and outer order and flow.

In an on site review assessment and evaluation in interior and exterior of private or commercial space and areas the wishes for improvement are being defined. With the analysis and planning of the recommendations they can then be implemented accordingly.

In the creative interior design your individual lifestyle can be adjusted and implemented in resonance to your wishes.

The investment is set in line with the project, extend, composition, execution, time, effort, expenditure, effort and budget.

Kids · Teenies

Young people – from kids to teenies – experience daily life, expectations, demands often very arduous and overstraining as they come out of the natural rhythm into too much this and too little that. My services offer holistic approaches in order to set better balance and alignment within and around, to connect inner power, self-confidence, stability with ease and joy. With many years of experience in cooperation with the KidsYouth together with Psychologist Therapists care we know that the holistic approaches are essentially integrating positive success rates and results, and can improve daily sequence flows.
